Celebrating Youth Activism — Showcasing Youth-Led Civic Engagement

The event highlighted the passion and creativity of young change makers. A diverse range of impactful NGOs, startups, and university student research projects showcased to inspire public dialogue and meaningful community participation.

The Biotech Department students enjoyed a remarkable study trip to Movenpick, filled with learning and fun! Organized by the Department of Political Science, Jinnah University for Women, under the course “Civics & Community Engagement,” the trip included exciting community-based activities like quizzes and riddles, making the experience both interactive and memorable.

Jinnah University for Women’s Political Science Department shared thoughtful gifts with Jamia Baitussalam Madrasa to promote “Civic Awareness & Community Harmony”.

Gifts were graciously presented to Madam Wajiha, Organizer of Shehri NGO, as part of the initiative to promote Civic Awareness and community engagement.

A photo session was held with the team as they explored and defined strategies for navigating Karachi's urban transit system.

Students actively engaged participants through quizzes and riddles, offering gifts to those with correct responses as a gesture of encouragement and interaction.

A memorable and heartwarming group capture

Students distributed essential items in marginalized areas as part of their commitment to “Civic Engagement and Social Responsibility”.
